Making History

Thank you for choosing to be part of The Strater Experience. You will find history and awe-inspiring story and craftsmanship in every corner of The Strater. Please know that you are welcome to walk through our hotel lobby, stop and take in the showcases and, we hope, choose to stay longer in this great town of Durango in one of our 93 unique storied rooms. Welcome and, again, our gratitude for being part of our living history. — Rod Barker, Owner

THE OFFICE: A BRIEF HISTORY

At a renovation cost of over $1,000,000, the Office Spiritorium provides a one-of-a-kind opulent Victorian setting, emulating an upscale men's social club that might have been found in New York City or San Francisco in the heyday of the Victorian era.

The Victorian woodwork, hand-carved walnut and mahogany, is probably the most elaborate of its kind to be created within the past 30 or more years, depicting the actual craftsmanship style of the era. The custom designed entry floor features handpicked quarried stones from South America, Italy and an island in the Caribbean. Shipped to Italy to be cut to exact specifications, these stones compliment the color tones in the hand-screened Bradbury and Bradbury art wallpaper.

The Office showcases an extensive collection of rare and unique pieces of office equipment and financial artifacts. There are items from people like Otto Mears in the entry display, one-of-a-kind bank notes, relics from the hotel's front desk, blueprints of the original Columbian hotel, documents depicting Henry Strater's pharmacy, a section of Railroad history, including a wanted listing for a robber. There is an authentic invitation to the inaugural party of Teddy Roosevelt in Denver, a very rare piece. The clock at the top of the lobby entrance portico is set at 5pm, the time it always is in The Office.

In line with first class service, pushbutton "Enunciator" buttons, located in four places on the balcony, summon service, just as patrons would have done in the 1800's. The furniture is all handmade, including the very comfortable swivel chairs made in our woodshop and the custom Stickleby chairs in the balcony and by the fireplace.

The custom-made stained glass windows were made by Betty Kirkpatrick of Durango. The chandelier is from Beverly Hills, California and is from the early 1800's. The two wall sconces between the front windows are French-made and are from the late 1890's. The Peacock comes from Hotchkiss, Colorado, and was procured only after 9 months of negotiations. The Bar is lined with $2 bills and relates to the old bar that was in the Columbian Room, which preceded The Office in this location. The Columbian Bar was lined with $1 silver certificates by Earl Barker, Jr and the $2 bill was meant as a hidden poke by Rod to his dad as an upstaging joke. Earl did get the innuendo.
